Firstly may we offer our very best wishes while taking the opportunity to introduce you to some of the facilities we have to offer for your very special day.

At Malin Court we pride ourselves on providing our guests with the perfect blend of informality, hospitality, excellent food and a warm Scottish welcome.

With delightful surroundings and breathtaking sea views of the Isle of Arran, Firth of Clyde and Ailsa Craig, our grounds are ideal for photographs and we are also close to Culzean Castle.

Our Cotters Restaurant accommodates up to 120 people for your wedding meal with a further 40 evening guests.

Our range of suggested menus are enclosed.

Should you wish to make suggestions of your own, or alter these menus, our Chef will be happy to meet with you to discuss this further.

on the day

Set a welcoming tone for the day by offering your guests a reception drink.

The red carpet will be laid out to greet you on your arrival and your photographs taken.

A piper can also be arranged to pipe you in, and later, to your table.

receiving your guests

Guests are received by the bridal party as they go in to dine.

Once your guests are seated we take their menu order.

This improves the efficiency of our food service.

your top table

Once the bridal party are seated,
your guests will be asked to stand up to receive the bride and groom.

grace

Usually performed by the Minister or the groom's father.

speeches & toasts

The bride's father will propose a toast to the bride and groom.

The groom will then make his speech and toast the bridesmaid(s).

The best man then makes his speech before reading messages and cards.

Speeches can be before or after the meal.

on the day

the cake cutting

Our wedding sword is used to cut the cake and guests will be offered a refreshment with which they may toast your health and future happiness. A Minister or the groom's father usually proposes the toast. The cake will later be cut and distributed with coffee either with the meal or with the evening buffet.

your evening guests

The bride and groom meet their evening guests in the front lounge. The evening guests may receive a reception drink at this point.

evening entertainment

The evening guests should arrive at approximately 7.30pm followed by the bride and groom taking the floor at 8.00pm for their first dance.

The best man and bridesmaid(s) join in, as do the ushers and the parents.

evening break

The band will normally take a 30 minute break, during which time a light buffet is served.

Dancing re-commences soon after.
